

Nominator's Letter

Stanisław Surma is a final year student of medicine at the Medical University of Silesia in Katowice. Stanisław is my assistant and he works very intensively in science. He is the author or co-author of 100 scientific publications (Impact factor 139; Hirsh Index 9; number of citations 295) and 100 popular science articles. Stanisław is Section Editor in Archives of Medical Science (IF = 3.707) and secretary of the scientific council in the journal Diseases of the Heart and Vessels. Moreover, he is a member of the Polish Lipid Association and the Club of Young Hypertensiologists of the Polish Society of Hypertension. Since 2022, he has been a certified lipidologist of the Polish Lipid Association.

The nominated article was published in a reputable scientific journal, and Stanisław Surma is its first author. I believe that the efforts and achievements of this young man are worth appreciating.

Yours faithfully,
